Reading 3: Items 16 -18
Situation: Read the news article.

(1) Europe's first underwater restaurant has recently opened in Lindesnes, Norway. The restaurant is called 'Under', which has a double meaning. Not only is the restaurant underwater, but the word 'under' also means 'wonder' in Norwegian.

(2) The restaurant offers visitors the chance to eat seafood while looking out at life under the ocean. At the bottom of the building is the main dining room, which rests on the sea floor and can seat 40 people. This dining room has a huge window that is 36 feet (11 meters) wide and 11 feet (3.4 meters) high. At night, special lighting will be used to attract fish and other sea creatures in front of the window.

(3) 'Under' will not just be used by people looking for a meal. When the restaurant is not open, it will be used by scientists researching sea life. The restaurant owners will work with scientists to make sure that they use sea creatures in a way that has little effect on the undersea environment. The restaurant is suitable for the scientists to study small sea creatures over a long period of time.

16. According to the news article, which sentence is TRUE about the underwater restaurant?
    1. It is the first underwater restaurant in the world.
    2. The restaurant will also be used to catch fish.
    3. Diners can watch the marine life pass by as they eat.
    4. More than 40 visitors can seat in the main dining room.

17. What is the second paragraph mainly about?
    1. The design of the restaurant
    2. The protection of marine life
    3. The location of the restaurant
    4. The history of the restaurant

18. Which of the following can be inferred about the underwater restaurant?
    1. Its name means 'puzzle' in Norwegian language.
    2. Its owners are concerned about underwater environment.
    3. It can be used as a place to create a new species of fish.
    4. It is a suitable place to keep fish and other water animals.

Reading 4: Items 19-21
Situation: Read the joke.

Two sisters were going on vacation in July but the older sister was on a business trip so she went to the destination first and her younger sister would meet her the next day.

When the older sister reached her hotel, she decided to send her younger sister a quick email.

Unfortunately, she mistyped the address and her message was directed instead to an elderly lady whose husband had passed away only the day before.

When the grieving widow checked her email, she took one look at the monitor, let out a piercing scream, and fell to the floor in a dead faint.
At the sound, her family rushed into the room and saw this note on the screen:

Hello Dear,
Just got checked in. Everything prepared for your arrival tomorrow.
P.S. It sure, is hot down here.

19. Which event happened first in the story?

    1. She called for help.
    2. She screamed loudly.
    3. She fell to the floor.
    4. She saw the message in the email.

21. What can be inferred from the story?
    1. The older sister went to a hot location.
    2. The older sister knew the elderly lady well.
    3. The younger sister never arrived at the hotel.
    4. The dead husband arranged for his wife's death.

Reading 5: Items 22-24
Situation: Read about a superstition.

Animals feature a lot in superstitions around the world. One ancient British superstition holds that if a child rides on a bear's back, it will be protected from whooping-cough.

It is said to be unlucky if you see bats flying and hear their cries. In the middle ages it was believed that witches were closely associated with bats.

If a sparrow enters a house, it is an omen of death to one of the people who live there. In some areas it is believed that to avoid bad luck, any sparrow caught must be immediately killed, otherwise the person who caught it will die.

In some areas black rabbits are thought to host the souls of human beings. White rabbits are said to be really witches and some believe that saying 'White Rabbit' on the first day of each month brings luck. Furthermore, a common lucky charm is a rabbit's foot, but not for the rabbit.

22. What is the best title for this passage?
    1. Omen of Disaster
    2. Animal Superstitions
    3. Witches in Disguise
    4. Good Luck or Bad Luck

23. Which animal is believed to bring good luck?
    1. A bear
    2. A bat
    3. A sparrow
    4. A white rabbit

24. According to the passage, which of the following would be a superstition in England?
    1. A bear can prevent whooping-cough.
    2. Witches can disguise themselves as bats or rabbits.
    3. To avoid death, a sparrow must be killed as soon as it is caught.
    4. Black rabbits are spirits that purify the soul of human beings.

Reading 6: Items 25-28
Situation: Read the article.

(1) How far dogs can smell depends on many things, such as the wind and the type of scent. You might be interested to know dogs are not the only great smellers. The scientific family that dogs belong to is Carnivora. This includes cats, bears and skunks. These animals have incredible senses of smell as well. Bears have some of the best senses of smell in the family. Polar bears can smell seals, which they hunt, from more than 30 km away.

(2) This amazing sense of smell means dogs makes great detection animals. They help search and rescue organizations find missing people; look for dangerous materials, such as drugs and bombs; search for illegal imports at airports; and help find trafficked endangered animals. All of these things are done with their noses, which makes dogs some of the best sniffers in the world.

(3) Dogs and people hear about the same at low frequencies of sound (around 20 hertz). This changes at high frequencies of sound, where dogs hear up to 70–100 kilohertz, much better than people at only up to 20 kilohertz. Dogs hear sound frequencies at least three times as high compared to people.

(4) They can also hear sounds that are softer or farther away, as far as a kilometer. This is why a dog might bark at a sound you cannot hear. That also means dogs can be more sensitive to loud sounds. This is why some dogs are scared of fireworks or thunderstorms.

25. What is the main idea of the first paragraph?
    1. Animals in the family of Carnivora are great smellers.
    2. Dogs are in the same family as cats, bears and skunks.
    3. Bears can travel as far as 30 kilometers to hunt for seals.
    4. Animals cannot smell well if the wind is too strong.

26. Why are dogs chosen to be detection animals?
    1. They can smell as far as 30 kilometers.
    2. They enjoy smelling people and things.
    3. They are easily trained to work hard.
    4. They can use their nose to find people and things.

27. Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the article?
    1. What frequency people can hear
    2. Why a dog barks at a sound we cannot hear
    3. Frequencies of sound which dogs can hear
    4. Why people cannot hear high sound frequencies

28. What is the best description of a dog according to this article?
    1. A detective which needs a soft and sweet command
    2. An amazing animal with a useful nose but bad ears
    3. An animal with special senses of smell and hearing
    4. The most precious animal compared to bears and skunks
